Customer Reviews

Stan and Jan Berenstain introduced the first Berenstain Bear books in 1962. Mike Berenstain grew up watching his parents work together to write about and draw these lovable bears. Eventually he started drawing and writing about them too. Although Stan died in 2005, and Jan in 2012, Mike continues to create the delightful Bear adventures from his studio in Pennsylvania, in an area that looks much like the sunny dirt road deep in Bear Country.

I bought this for my kids to help them count their blessings and appreciate the blessing of our home. My kids loved the book. I'm not sure they fully grasp the lesson yet, but the point is to plant seeds and keep watering them. :)

Cannot beat the Berenstain Bears when it comes to basic lessons in morality! My kids (4,3 and 1) love to huddle around their father while he reads them stories at bedtime and it's always an added bonus if the book has quality lessons that they can understand - no hidden agenda to be drilled into them day after day.

In traditional Berenstain style: fun, problem, a learning situation, all followed by "bear-havior modification"! My grandkids LOVE it!

How can you go wrong with the Bears? Classic books make it easy for moms, dads, grandparents and aunties to instill great character and lessons in a fun and practical way. Worth collecting and building a library for anyone and everyone interested in building a great future for children. Fabulous investment in the next generation! Some traditions are worth keeping and the bears are one.

A classic bear family story. Love reading this to my 3 year old at bedtime. About family, home, contentment and problem solving together.

Unwrapped books were requested and the Mrs. and I were pleased to find the Bears' books online. I used to read the BB adventures to both our daughter and son, and now my soon-to-be a dad son will do the same for his first child, a girl. I highly recommend these books.

Love love love! We read this almost daily before bed! We all all the living light books! Would recommend.

I thought this was a look cute totally worth your money! Also this is coming from a kid so take my word for it.
