When good things happen to you out of the blue or unexpectedly, do you ever ask yourself how did that happen, or why it happened to you? Well, I don't either! What I ask myself and have been asking myself for the last couple of years is, "WTH? I thought I was finally getting out of this awful rut I've been in for the last several years the last time something really good happened to me? What happened?!!! Where is the consistency? Why does there seem to be more negative things in my life than positive?" On the days that I'm not completely aggravated by the unacceptable things in my life, I self motivate and get creative with all kinds of things I want to do. And I make them all happen! It is magical! That is until... I don't know what it is I do to create the happiness and joy I experience when I make things happen. UNTIL NOW. I read Feeling Is The Secret the day I bought it. And it clicked! I first heard of this secret from Greg Braden on his Youtube video about prayer. It resonated with me and I have been on a quest to understand it ever since. After reading this book, the application was explained in plain words so I was actually able to implement this secret immediately into my daily life. I mean instantly!! No longer do I ask those questions nor even have the need to. I finally got a grip on to something wonderful I've always known but had my emphases on the thought and not the feel of a thing. This is REAL! My confirmation of the truth I read in this little book was immediately after reading it I felt the stress literally fall off my body. I've been stuck in the bed everyday since the first week of February. I've been out of the bed everyday since I read this book and understood that I have the will to choose what I want to think about, how I want to feel about what I think. I could write more about my experience which is all great, it is just too personal for the public though. Y'all understand. The last thing I will say about this book is that it is life changing, if you get it and apply it. Pay close attention to your feelings and how you choose to feel because our feelings are more important than we were ever taught. I see why it is a secret. This is just my take on this book, thanks for reading my opinion. I hope it helped someone out there. Blessings and Peace to ALL!

The title speaks for itself. Feeling is the secret. The last 5 minutes before sleep are the most important. That's when contact with the subconscious mind is the most powerful. Read this book to learn how to use that time to change your life. Neville should be mandatory reading. All his lectures and writings were to share what he learned. To serve others. Today when I read "New Age" authors, they're all peddling their wares, stating they have "the secret" to change your life. And most are just taking what Neville taught and putting their spin on it. You don't have to sift through all of that, just stick with Neville (and a few other classics out there).

Just what I needed to hear or read. Sometimes life gives us the feeling that we are subject to it, but we have complete control of our lives. Positive thoughts are key for what we can imagine, we should believe to be true. Loved the book. Great read!!

I have recently become a big fan of Neville Goddard's work and have been reading many of his works. Feeling is the Secret is what I consider to be my favorite of his books. Brief and to the point, this book encapsulates the basic formula behind Neville's approach to manifestation. This book is very clearly laid out on Kindle with excellent formatting.

The information in this book is wonderful, which is why I kept reading it till the end and there were pieces that I was able to capture and absorb. The way that my brain works and absorbs material, is when the author is writing in a way that I can relate to, like talking to a friend. The author writes in a very old style biblical kind of way, which I couldn't absorb into like I generally enjoy, (again, this is just my brain style), otherwise this book is very informative and is a great read if one is diving into the deeper truths of LOA and manifestation.

Anything written by Neville is a must-read for those on the trail of living life at higher and more beautiful levels of consciousness. Feeling is perhaps the hidden yet essential ingredient missing in so many spiritual philosophies. It is the feelings generated by the thoughts we have that are the messengers sent out to bring into form their likeness. Feelings are living spiritual life-giving seeds, which when planted become the conditions and experiences of all life. If you are looking for the causes of the events you experience, look no further, although "it is easier to ascribe your feeling to events in the world rather than admit the conditions in your world reflect your feeling." Yet it remains a truism, as within so without. Every feeling must be expressed unless counteracted by a more powerful feeling, opposite in nature. If you desire a different life experience "do not dwell on imperfections in you or others, this is the law of a full and happy life."

This is a great book about how to intentionally use your imagination to create your reality but you must actually DO what Neville recommends to see results - it requires very little effort, try it

WARNING: for some reason every paragraph of this book is CENTERED. Baffling and distracting.
