Middle School: How I Survived Bullies, Broccoli, And Snake Hill (Middle School Series Book 4)

Synopsis

Rafe Khatchadorian, the hero of the bestselling Middle School series, is ready for a fun summer at camp--until he finds out it's a summer school camp! Luckily, Rafe easily makes friends with his troublemaking cabin mates and bunkmate, a boy nicknamed Booger-Eater, who puts up with endless teasing from the other kids. Rafe soon realizes there's more to a person than a nickname, though, and Booger-Eater might be the kind of friend you want on your side when the boys from the Cool Cabin attack. This fourth book in the massively popular Middle School series is an unforgettable summer of hi-jinks, new friends, and surprises, all told with the hilarity and honesty readers have come to expect from blockbuster author James Patterson.

My son loves this series. Great author. He knows how to entertain older kids. My son especially loved this book in the series. I heard him laughing out loud many times. One time i asked him to read me a chapter and i was laughing so hard. This book touches the issue of bullying and standing up for your friends. I highly recommend for any boy around age 9 and up. 7 and up for the strongest readers.

I bought this hardcover book for my 12yr old son for bringing his math grade from an F to a B. He opened it to page 1 while in my bedroom and 30minutes later he's still standing at the foot of my bed reading while occasionally smiling and chuckling. I'd say it's a hit! I've posted a few pictures from inside the book as well. Check them out!

Middle School - How I Survived Bullies, Broccoli, and Snake Hill, by James Patterson and Chris Tebbetts is a humorous story about a middle school boy named Rafe Khatchadorian. It's told from his perspective, and tells of his adventures with his colorful cabin-mates during their summer at Camp Wannamorra, a summer camp/summer school. This book is a witty and entertaining story that deals with bullying and pre-teen drama, and shows you that sticking together can make a big difference. I found it to be a great read, that would appeal to anyone age 10 through 13. Middle School - How I Survived Bullies, Broccoli, and Snake Hill, is a very funny and relatable story, that draws you in and makes you not want to stop reading. I found this book very amusing - it was one of the funniest books I have read.

Bought a couple of these for my son. He read them all during his free time when he had PSSA testing. He loved them and wants the rest of the series.

my 11 year old son thought this book was only ok

My 7 y/o decided to spend his birthday money in middle school books series He loves all his books and the condition of the book is excellent!

I purchased this book for my 5th grade classroom library and my students LOVE it! As a matter of fact, I can never find it because it's always in someone's desk! It's a funny look at what all of my students are most nervous about.. middle school. I think James Patterson does a good job making light of a pretty intimidating time in the lives of future middle schoolers. I give this book 5 stars!

My son has not devoured a lot of books, he's a great reader but not a lover of reading. Trying to find books he'll enjoy has been somewhat of a battle. Books he's been completely absorbed with have been the Diary of a Wimpy Kid series, I Funny, Cirque Du Freak series and now this title by Patterson. For some reason he wasn't fond of the first Middle School book, but this one has hit the spot! I will occasionally sit next to him as he reads and it's amusing to me. I can see how it would grab the interest of a pre teen boy! Any book that can capture my son's attention to the point where he doesn't want to put the book down deserves a five-star rating in my opinion, and this title nails it.
