Zoologist Jim Kavanagh has made a career out of introducing novices to plants, animals, the sciences and world cultures. In addition to creating over 500 simplified nature guides, he has also authored guides to languages, cities and outdoor skills. An avid traveler and backpacker, Kavanagh's path has taken him around the world to many remote destinations including the upper , Africa, Australia, and the Arctic Circle (and this is just the As). He is also the author of a series of state-specific guides to common species and natural attractions and a children's book on evolution.

These fold out guides are perfect for the casual tourist mostly interested in identifying what they are seeing. They lay flat and are easy to pack while adding very little weight to baggage. They have a surprisingly large number of animals listed. People wanting detailed information will need to look for a bigger guidebook or use their smart phones.

This booklet is overvalued and overprices. In spite of the fact that it is laminated and will last a significant time in the field, the lack of information and details about the habitats preferred by various plants was extremely disappointing.
