The late George F. Cole was Professor Emeritus of Political Science at the University of Connecticut. He was recognized for outstanding teaching and research and in 1995 was named a Fellow of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. A specialist in the administration of criminal justice, he published extensively on such topics as prosecution, courts, and corrections. He developed and directed the graduate corrections program at the University of Connecticut and was a Fellow at the National Institute of Justice (1988). Among his other accomplishments, he was granted two awards under the Fulbright-Hays Program to conduct criminal justice research in England and the former Yugoslavia. He was co-author of several other Cengage Learning/Wadsworth criminal justice titles, including THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE, 15th Edition (with Christopher E. Smith and Christina DeJong); AMERICAN CORRECTIONS, 11th Edition (with Todd Clear and Michael Reisig); AMERICAN CORRECTIONS IN BRIEF, 3rd Edition (with Todd Clear, Michael Reisig, and Carolyn Petrosino); and THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM: POLITICS AND POLICIES, 10th Edition (with Marc Gertz). Christopher E. Smith is Professor of Criminal Justice at Michigan State University (MSU). He earned degrees at Harvard University, the University of Bristol (England), the University of Tennessee, and the University of Connecticut. Trained as a lawyer and social scientist, he is the author of 25 books and more than 100 scholarly articles on law, courts, and criminal justice policy. He has been recognized as an outstanding teacher with MSU's "Teacher-Scholar Award" and "Social Science Alumni Association Outstanding Teaching Award." His other books with Cengage Learning/Wadsworth include THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE, 15th Edition (with George Cole and Christina DeJong), LAW AND CONTEMPORARY CORRECTIONS, CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS: MYTHS AND REALITIES, and CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. Christina DeJong is Associate Professor of Criminal Justice at Michigan State University. She earned her Ph.D. in Criminal Justice and Criminology at the University of Maryland and her B.A. in Sociology from the University of Texas at Austin. Her scholarly research on genocide, recidivism, domestic violence, police-community interactions, and other topics has been published in such journals as Criminology, Justice Quarterly, Feminist Criminology, and The Journal of Family Violence. Her current research focuses on gender and sexuality issues in criminology and criminal justice, as well as violence against women in conflict and genocide. A member of the Michigan State University faculty since 1994, she has taught courses on research methods, statistical analysis, genocide, and women and criminal justice. She is also a co-author of the Cengage Learning/Wadsworth book, THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE, 15th Edition (with George Cole and Christopher E. Smith).

I bought this for my CJ 101 class. It is a good text. My prof likes it a lot, but it is a little wordy. I like the graphics. The charts and tables are well laid out and fairly easy to understand. The prompts and questions are good. I like that they give you a direct link to optional resources as well as the course link (we did not have to purchase access to the course Web site, so it's nice not to have to Google for the links). One thing that bothers me is that none of the very interesting and illustrative photographs are sourced. I would like to know the context for the photographs -- beyond the fact that they illustrate some point in the text. I bought the loose leaf version because it was much cheaper. However, you cannot sell it back to . Still, I didn't want to put it in a three ring binder -- too bulky and hard to handle, so I took it to Staples and had the covers laminated and the pages spiral bound for ~$5. Great deal and it handles well! I love that I can simply turn the pages to the back and that if I lay the book down it doesn't close up. I will attempt to sell it myself to another CJ student next semester.

It actually came in and is the hard cover which i like better and still using it, thank you!!

Delivery was fine. I just haven't really used the book for my class. It is a lot easier to just google the information I need.

In excellent condition, very happy

It's not even the book but the instructor, that makes this book great.

It works for class

Can't believe I paid what I did for this beaten up book that came with no binding and held together with rubber bands! I want my money back! What a rip off!

Easy to read, but it's still definitely a textbook. Large book.
