Customer Reviews

"This is a wonderful book - in fact it's a wonderful series. Irene Howat writes with a real warmth and insight. People that you have never met come alive on the page. Christian legends and unsung heroes all become friends you can understand and look up to. In a world where role models of real integrity are few and far between the Lightkeeper's series fills the gap!" (Catherine MacKenzie ~ Author and CF4K Editor)

Irene Howat is an award-winning author and a talented artist in Ayrshire, Scotland. She is married to a retired minister and they have a grown family. She especially enjoys receiving letters from her readers and replies to all of them. Check out her new stories at www.story-a-month-club.org.uk.

The stories are easy enough for elementary students to read. The biographies are not very long but offer enough insight into the life of that individual. The thing I liked best about each "biography" is at the conclusion of each story they first provide you with a special fact that relates to the individual's story and then sums up that person's life and ties in how that person's life was used by God. In addition, at the end of all of the biographies there is a short reading comprehension quiz covering each of the individuals covered in the book. I would highly recommend this book.

This is a great collection of stories about missionaries. Each story length was perfect. It took about 2 days to read each story and was interesting enough to keep my son's 8 year old attention.

Great for reluctant readers. The chapters (individual stories) are short but very well written! I would recommend this for 2-5 grade boys!

Ordered this for my 9-yr-old grandson who read it completely before putting it down!! It was refreshing to see Billy Graham included among the "10 boys" even though this is not a particularly religious book.

I could only find the boxed sets of these books at local bookstores. luckily sells them individually. They are rather short but good for the attention span of young boys. The stories are interesting and appropriate for maybe age 7or8 and up.

I purchased this book for my grandsons aged 8 and 11. They look forward to reading them at bedtime. These stories show them how God can use our lives for His glory.

My 11 yr old grandson that it was interesting. I thought that it would be challenging. But it's hard to pick out a book for someone else. I read it and thought that it was well written.

This is a wonderful set of biographies of truly admirable men for young boys to know about. That said, it is poorly written and difficult to read, not only for young children, but for adults. The wording is awkward and colloquial expressions are often used but not explained.
