Larbi Oukada, a native of Casablanca, Morocco, is the chair of the Department of Modern Languages and Cultures at Georgia College. Professor Oukada received a Ph.D. in linguistics from Louisiana State University. His research and publications have focused on French phonology, methods of teaching second languages, and the notion of curricular responsiveness. Professor Oukada coauthored with the late Mike Oates of Iowa a first-year French program entitled ENTRE AMIS, now in its sixth edition and adopted by over 350 colleges and universities. He is also the lead author of CONTROVERSESES, now in its third edition. Didier Bertrand is Associate Professor of French in the Department of World Languages and Cultures at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. He holds a Ph.D. in French from the University of Iowa, and his research and publications focus on the retellings of the Robinson Crusoe story and second language acquisition. He is the author of several articles on twentieth-century French fiction, the author of TEST YOURSELF IN FRENCH GRAMMAR, and coauthor of the ENTRE AMIS workbook. He currently serves as President of the Indiana chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French. Janet Solberg is Associate Professor of Romance Languages and Literature at Kalamazoo College in Kalamazoo, Michigan. She received her Ph.D. in French from the University of Minnesota in 1988. Her main areas of interest are sixteenth-century French short narrative, francophone literature (especially the literatures of Sub-Saharan Africa and Asia), intercultural communication, and second language acquisition.

The passcode for online is worthless and doesn't help if you have any background in French. The book is great, the extra money for the online code is not worth the money.

great condition, useful advanced french material that is relevant to society today

All went fine.

The book is in good condition. As a textbook there is not much to comment on its content, yet potential customers should be aware that the online code is NOT included. In other words, one cannot access the online supplementary resources unless he/she separately purchase the code. This is not big deal for me except that I do not find any "NOTICE" or reminders on the product page.
