Customer Reviews

This clip-art collection would make a good companion to Vintage Spot Illustrations of Children: 795 Cuts from the Teens and Twenties \(Dover Pictorial Archives\) or Children: A Pictorial Archive \(Dover Pictorial Archive\); like them, it includes dozens of black-and-white illustrations from magazines of the era c. 1890-1930, and so naturally provides us with a look at childhood when it was both genuinely innocent and to a very great extent pleasurable, without hours of chores, restrictive clothing, or oppressive discipline to blight young lives. Vignettes, embellishments, title banners, and spot illustrations, mostly in delicate pen-and-ink linework, fill the oversize pages with images of children alone, with friends, pets, and adults, indoors and out, and at holiday times, along with many whimsical pictures of fairies and other creatures. An index of artists would have been nice, but even without one, people who enjoy attractive pictures of happy children are sure to enjoy it, and crafters are sure to find many uses for it.

I absolutely love this book. I'm looking forward to using it in my work. Great find!!! I recommend it to all.

This is a beautiful, detailed collection of illustrations from vintage children's periodicals. I loved the seasonal decorations. There is even one for May day! These pictures are perfect for illustrating memory albums. Lots of fairy pictures, the entire book has a magical quality!
