K-Gr  $4\tilde{A}c\hat{a} \neg \hat{a}$  An attractive and inspiring look at immigration to the United States, sure to spark discussions at home or in the classroom. Coy takes a simple approach with the text, employing only a few words per page, while Huie uses his mostly black-and-white photographs to illuminate the experience of coming to a new country, working hard, making mistakes, and building a new home. The images carry this volume, featuring people of various ages, occupations, and cultural backgrounds. Lacking captions or explanations, the visuals will lead readers to wonder about cultural differences and notice similarities. Coy and Huie describe their ancestors' paths to America in appended notes, and both explain the process of creating this book. Comparable in format to titles such as Global Babies (2007), Maya Ajmera's Our Grandparents: A Global Album (2010, both Charlesbridge), and Rosemary McCarney's The Way to School (Second Story, 2015), this offering puts a human face on a serious issue. VERDICT An ideal jumping-off place for teachers and parents interested in starting a conversation about a timely topic.  $\tilde{A}\phi \hat{a} \neg \hat{a}$  •Jennifer Wolf, Beaverton City Library, OR Summary: Each page has 3-6 photographs of 21st-century immigrants. The brief text explains how people have come to the United States from many countries. They may not speak English, they may make embarrassing mistakes, but they work hard and often do the jobs that no one else wants for long hours. They push their children to also work hard and to never give up, with the hope that those children will have opportunities they never knew. The final page asks,  $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}c\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\mathring{A}^{"}$ What will we do with their great gift? $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}c\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{A}$ • Back matter includes photos of the author $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}c\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}_{,,,cs}$  and illustrator $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}c\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}_{,,sc}$  ancestors and their stories of how their families came to America, as well as a description of how they came to work together on this book. 32 pages; grades 1-5.Pros: Although the text is brief, almost like a poem, the photographs are captivating and will make readers want to spend a lot of time with this book, imagining what life is like for the subjects of those photos. This would be a perfect introduction to a unit on immigration, demonstrating that seeking a new life in the United States has been, and continues to be, and ongoing theme in American history.Cons: I wanted to know more about almost every single photograph.

A mother held her two little girls close, thoughtfully bowing her head in prayer. Perhaps they remembered very well where they came from, but wondered what the future held for them. Two Hispanic men lovingly hold up photographs of their families, families that yet have to arrive in America. How long would it be until they see them again? Yet another family gathers around their table for a traditional Chinese meal. An American flag is tucked behind the wall telephone. They came from faraway lands in search of a better life, a life that wouldn  $\tilde{A}f \hat{A}\phi \tilde{A} \hat{a} - \tilde{A} \hat{a}_{,,\phi} \phi t$  be easy at first. Smiles and determination light up faces of those who step on our shores.  $\hat{A}f\hat{A}\phi\hat{A}$   $\hat{a}$   $\neg\hat{A}$   $\hat{A}$ "Their journey was long and difficult / and when they arrived, / they didn $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}_{\mu}\phi$ t know the language / or how to do certain things.  $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}$   $\neg\tilde{A}$   $\hat{A}$ • There would be hard work ahead, but it would be worth it. A woman pores over a test book, plugging those answers into a notebook. Ah, that tongue sticking out makes it that much easier! Some people are cruel and have little patience for those who make mistakes.  $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{A}$ "Others didn $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}_{,,,\phi}$ t understand how much they  $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{a}_{,,\phi}\phi$  d sacrificed.  $\tilde{A}f\hat{A}\phi\tilde{A}$   $\hat{a} \neg \tilde{A}$   $\hat{A}$ . There was much work to be done. So much to learn, so much to do ... the language is different, the culture so alien, but they were going to make it. Do you know someone who came from another faraway land? Have you welcomed them to our shores? This is a poignant, photographic look at a very diverse group of people arriving in America.
