Resorts Of Maldives (Guidebook Format)

Synopsis

The bible for Maldives holiday-makers. Adrian Neville travelled, independently, to every resort in the country. The photographs and reviews combine to give the only accurate and detailed picture of every resort. Each review includes unique 'relative price' and 'room density' figures as well as a box of key prices and contacts. This is a beautiful way to making the right choice of resort. This is the smaller 'guidebook' size format published in August 2007. It contains the full set of reviews from the original, large format publication (ISBN 9991521658) though some photographs and graphics have been dropped to fit this smaller size.

Customer Reviews

I am a travel consultant....and a proud owner of Resorts of Maldives! The pictures are absolutely fabulous and your honest critique/praise of each one based on relevant criteria such as beach, sand, reef, room, food, service and ambience qualities is spot on....unless you have actually been to every resort, you won't be able to tell accurately what the beaches are really like and how good the reefs and lagoons really are. You also won't be able to compare and recommend with confidence which resort is best for the individual. --Vivian Liu-Ionides
It's a brilliant guide - and you're right, it's absolutely accurate!! A friend of mine read the information on the resorts he'd already visited (5 in total) and he said the same. Well done on a fabulous guide! I plan to go back and will count on your experiences/suggestions when making my decision on which island to visit next. --Carla Duarte
His reviews in my opinion are excellent, we have visited several islands and we agree with his reports for each of them. The photographs and page layout are fantastic. But most importantly this is an honest and unbiased opinion from Adrian Neville. Anyone wanting to visit the Maldives should buy this book, I wouldn't be without it! --Mary di Stefano

Adrian Neville lived in Maldives from 1991-'93 and has lived in South Asia ever since, making frequent returns. His love of travel, urge to photograph and instinct to criticise have come together to form his natural job. He is English by upbringing, Irish by descent and deracinated by experience.
